MEMBER DRAWS MINISTER'S FIRE

Mr. H. Despard Twigg, Conservative, Victoria, Draws Attorney-General Over Coals in Brilliant Maiden Speech

GOVERNMENT LIQUOR BOARD RESIGNATIONS

Suggests Formation of Roads Board to Operate With Authority of Government in Handling Road Programme

THE ability of the Opposition to manipulate an exquisite verbal rapier was given definite proof yesterday when Mr. H. Despard Twigg, Conservative member for Victoria, attacked the Government, particularly its leader, Premier Oliver, and its Attorney-General, Hon. A. M. Manson. Mr. Twigg forced some illuminating admissions from the latter in connection with the recent reorganization of the Government Liquor Control machinery. He scolded the Government as a whole on general principles, and drew fire on numerous occasions from Premier Oliver.

Opening his remarks, the Victoria member paid the customary compliments to Mr. Speaker and other members of the House. Referring to Major Richard Burr, he claimed a very high regard for the Albertan member because he had been a gallant soldier and because he had shown by his statesmanship that the Government in utter contempt. He paid another compliment to Mr. Frank Browne, Labor member for Burnaby, and complimented him on his Latin phrases and particularly on his display of manliness and solid strength of purpose.

Government Financing
Relative to the retirement from political life of Hon. John Hart, former Minister of Finance, Mr. Twigg said that he (Mr. Hart) had been a good fellow, but that he had obtained money from the people of British Columbia by holding a gun to their heads. "He groped into the very coffins of the dead to secure funds with which to run the Government," (Laughter from the Government benches.)

"Don't laugh; what I am telling you is true, and if you will investigate the methods under which successions duties are sometimes obtained you will discover the facts for yourself," he rejoined.

CONFERENCE CURBS OPIUM SMOKING

GATHERING AT GENEVA CONSIDERS ILLEGAL PRODUCTION

Chinese Delegation Declares Political Changes at Peking Will Help Control Traffic

GENEVA, Nov. 7.—The difficulty of drafting a general plan to curb opium smoking in the Far East, while the production of opium continues heavy in China, was the subject of discussion among the Powers having Far Eastern possessions, during the session today of the opium conference. It was contended that some opium is smuggled out of China for Far Eastern countries and that any plans the Powers might frame would be nearly ineffective by contraband activities.

Admits Illicit Cultivation

Alfred See, the Chinese minister to the United States, addressed the conference, admitting there was considerable illicit cultivation of opium in China, but said this was due to the ambition of militarists "who encourage local production of poppies as a means of raising revenue to purchase arms."

Happily, he said, the international political situation had improved and an important conference of provisions leaders at Washington was at Peking to discuss administrative reforms. He had sent a message to Peking urging that prompt attention be given to the question of opium for the suppression of opium cultivation, which was altogether contrary to Chinese law.

MR. FRANK ANDREWS SUFFERS ACCIDENT

Falls Down Hotel Steps and Is Reported in Serious Condition at Jubilee Hospital

Suffering from concussion of the brain, a fractured right arm and other injuries, as a result of a fall down the stairs leading to the Cat's Meow Cabaret, Westholme Hotel, Mr. Frank Andrews, 1318 Pandora street, was rushed to the Jubilee Hospital in the police patrol shortly before 11 o'clock last night.

Mr. Andrews had been attending the Melchior political meeting at the Pantages Theatre.

COMMISSIONERS SILENT AS HOUSE PROBES MYSTERY

"We aren't going to talk. Why should we talk? There is nothing for us to say."
So spoke Mr. A. M. Johnson, one of the three commissioners of the Liquor Board succeeded by Mr. Hugh Davidson, when asked last night about his status and that of his colleagues. "We are like monkeys in a cage," added Mr. Johnson. "You can't expect us to say anything. But as for talk, there'll be plenty of that during the next six weeks. It started today in the Legislature."

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION IS GIVEN CHIEFTAIN

Scores Liberal Party Methods in Provincial House—Members for Victoria Made Day Notable

An enthusiastic reception was accorded Mr. R. H. Pooley, leader of the Conservative opposition in the Provincial House, when he rose to speak at the mass meeting at the Pantages Theatre last night prior to the address of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen.

It was a great pleasure to stand on the same platform with the future Premier of Canada, Mr. Pooley declared. As House leader of the Conservative party in British Columbia, it was a pleasure to extend a welcome to the chief of the Liberal-Conservative party of all Canada.

Hon. Mr. Meighen needed no introduction to Victoria people, Mr. Pooley continued. Most of his audience had already either seen him or heard him speak. If not, they had undoubtedly read of him in the press and, only the day before, they had read of the results of his good work in the report that the grand old party had won the by-election at Yale. It was to be hoped that in the near future, at the next general election, they would sweep the whole country.

Alluding to the fact that the first week of the Provincial session was just over, Mr. Pooley declared that the opposition had been able to solve some of the problems. The speech from the throne had not served to clarify the situation. It was a case of not knowing where they were going but being on their way.

Friday had been a notable day in the House. It had been Victoria's day. Three of the members for Victoria had held the floor of the House during the afternoon. Two of them had made their maiden speeches and Canon Hinchcliffe had wound up the debate. The reporters, the best judges, had agreed afterwards that they had never seen a better day. They had agreed that the House had listened to some of the best speeches in its history.

COLD WAVE IN NORTH MAY MOVE SOUTH

Weather Forecast Indicates Possibility Rain May Be Succeeded by Drop in Temperature

If Victoria is pessimistic she will get her coat and blouse and shawl and her exposed water pipes covered up. At Prince Rupert yesterday morning there was a smart drop in the temperature, from 40 to 30 degrees, as reported by wireless at the Consular Heights Observatory. Such cold is exceptional so early in the winter at the northern seaport, and it is not unlikely that Victoria may experience some lowering of its temperature as the area of influence extends southwards.

Up to the present rain and wind have been the most conspicuous features of the local weather. The twelve hours ending at midday yesterday brought 7.8 inch of rain here. Vancouver had an almost imperceptible superiority with .78 inch in the same period. At Cape Flattery, however, the rain was much heavier, the same twelve hours giving 1.66 inches. All over the west coast there has been very heavy rain. In the interior the rain has turned much colder and snow is falling in many places, including the Cariboo country, Kamloops, etc. At Calgary yesterday the mercury dropped to six below zero. Last night it was snowing at Edmonton and reports from many points indicate that it is generally cold throughout the prairie.

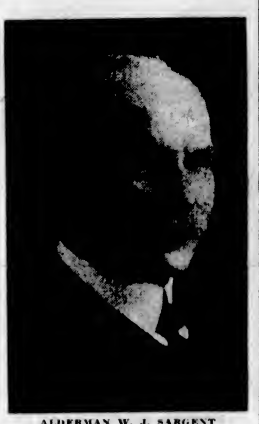

There have been no reports from Atlin or Dawson for several days. The heavy rains of the last thirty-six hours have caused considerable flooding in many parts of the island, and in many places in the immediate neighborhood of Victoria low-lying fields are completely under water and streams have overrun their banks. Motorists report that the roads in certain sections are in bad condition owing to washing out of gravel.

ALD. SARGENT TO RUN FOR MAYOR

Makes Definite Announcement of Candidature Following Conference With Delegation of Prominent Citizens

WOULD HOLD REVERTED LANDS FROM MARKET

Points to Long and Successful Record as Member of Council in Support of Mayoralty Qualifications

ALDERMAN W. J. SARGENT

ALDERMAN W. J. Sargent last night announced his candidature for mayoralty honors at the municipal elections next month. Alderman Sargent's decision was made in response to the urgent solicitation of a delegation of prominent citizens, representative of all classes in the city, which waited upon him at his apartment in the Great West Life Assurance Company's offices in the Union Bank Building last night.

Each member of the delegation spoke briefly of his appreciation of Alderman Sargent's long and faithful services to the city. The Alderman's connection with the finance committee was emphasized. Providing intimate knowledge of the financial problems of the city, such experience, members of the delegation said, would be of great value at the present critical juncture if Alderman Sargent should be elected mayor. Of this event they were confident, they said, if the Alderman continued on Page 13

NORSEMAN TRACES FOUND IN IDAHO

ARCHAEOLOGICAL DISCOVERY REPORTED BY SCIENTIST

Runic Inscription Telling of Expedition in 10th Century of Viking Warriors Searched

SPOKANE, Nov. 7.—Two discoveries which he believes will confirm deductions from runic and hieroglyphic inscriptions on rocks in the Pacific Northwest that a Norse expedition visited this part of the country in the year 1010 A.D., were announced here today by Olof Lojander, Norwegian scientist of this city, upon his return from a trip into Northern Idaho and Eastern Washington.

Mr. Lojander said he had found a runic inscription telling of the burial of a Viking in armor and had located the supposed grave, and had learned of the location of a carved stone tablet giving the history of the early Norse expedition.

At an early next spring an official Government supervision can be obtained the grave will be opened and the tablet excavated, he said. Snow in the hills where the discoveries were made will prevent earlier investigation.

B.C. Lead and Zinc Now Supplying World's Needs

Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, Describes Rapid Growth in Province's Production of Metal—Believes Copper Prices Will Advance Following Republican Victory—Decline in Fuel Oil Output Should Aid Coalities

BRITISH COLUMBIA is rapidly assuming a dominant position in the world's distributing centres as a producer of zinc and lead. Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, told delegates to the annual meeting of the British Columbia Mining Association here last night.

"British Columbia's zinc output has jumped from 45,000,000 pounds in 1921 to 18,000,000 pounds in 1923, and the first half of the year witnessed the production of 25,500,000 pounds in this Province," said Mr. Sloan. "We may expect a zinc output this year close to 40,000,000 pounds."

LADIES SIGH AS SPEAKER SHATTERS PRETTY CONCEIT

Dr. S. F. Tolmie punctured the bubble of a pretty conceit at the Pantages Theatre last night and bright-eyed ladies were heard to sigh sadly. Speaking of the Yale by-election campaign in which the gallant Hon. P. T. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, had participated, Dr. Tolmie was reminded of the Minister's pretty remarks at the recent Mackenzie King rally here about the brightness of the eyes of the ladies in the gallant Minister's audience.

SAYS HIGH TARIFF WOULD END EXODUS

INDUSTRIES NEED PROTECTION, DECLARES DR. S. F. TOLMIE

Canadian Wages Must Be as High as American to Keep Citizens in the Country

The need of a higher tariff wall as a means of fostering Canadian industries, and of arresting the tide of emigration, was stressed by Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Federal Conservative organizer of the Liberal-Conservative party, in his address before last night's mass meeting at the Pantages Theatre to hear Hon. Arthur Meighen.

Dr. Tolmie's immense local popularity was manifested in the cheers and applause which greeted him as he rose to speak.

Political events of great interest to Canadians were happening in different parts of the world, Dr. Tolmie declared. Great Britain had recently tried a system of minority government. It was, in a sense, an experiment on the part of the Labor party, which had been considerably handicapped by certain radicals. But the sound-minded British people had decided it had had enough. In the recent election it had not only put the Conservative party back in power, but it had done so with a smashing majority.

MUCH BUSINESS AWAITS CABINET

PREMIER'S RETURN TO OTTAWA TO MARK BUSY SEASON

Many Important Vacancies to Be Filled and Matters Dealt With Before House Meets

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—Premier Mackenzie King, accompanied by Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, Hon. Hal McGovern, Minister without portfolio, and Senator Andrew Haydon will arrive in Ottawa Saturday. Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, is already en route. Accompanying the Prime Minister on a part of his Western trip, and Hon. E. M. McDonald, Minister of National Defence, has returned from Europe.

The return of the Premier and the gathering in Ottawa of many of the members of his Cabinet who have not been here, represented Canada's absence will, doubtless, result in action on a number of important matters which have been held up.

Matters Interesting West
To the West the most important matter which the cabinet must grapple is the recent decision of the Board of Railway Commissioners up-setting the Crow's Nest Pass west-bound rates. Notice of appeal to the Governor-General in Council embodying a demand that, pending the hearing, the rates in force prior to the findings of the Railway Board should remain in effect, has been received from three Prairie Provinces. The cabinet, however, declined to interfere with the judgment of the Board, at least until the return of the Premier and the Western Ministers. No date has yet been announced for the hearing of the appeal.

Mr. MacDonald, who, with Hon. Mr. Dandurand, represented Canada at the meeting of the Assembly of the Americas in Washington, D. C., is expected to return here today.

OTTAWA TO HONOR ARMISTICE DAY

Their Excellencies and Leading Functionaries to Attend When Premier Places Wreath on Cenotaph

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—Premier King will, on behalf of the Government, place a wreath on the cenotaph erected on the steps leading to the main entrance of the Parliament Buildings as part of the Armistice Day ceremonies here on Sunday.

In His Excellency, the Governor-General and Lady Hing will be present: the Speaker of the House of Commons, Hon. Rudolph Lemieux; several members of the cabinet; the Judges of the Supreme Court; Mayor Champagne, of Ottawa; and representatives of various branches of the public service, all will attend.

KING MEETS NEW CABINET COUNCIL

His Majesty Bids Farewell to Ramsay MacDonald and Colleagues and Sits in New Executive

DUCHESS OF ATHOL IS PROPOSED FOR MINISTRY

Premier Baldwin Goes to Chequers Court for Week-End, and Lull Continues Until Tuesday

LONDON, Nov. 7.—King George bade farewell to day to Ramsay MacDonald and his ministers and later sat at a cabinet council presided over by the new Prime Minister, Stanley Baldwin.

The resigning appointments to Mr. Baldwin's ministry are not likely to be announced officially before next Tuesday. It is generally agreed that, like the late Labor Government, there will be one woman member in the new administration and that the duty will fall on the Duchess of Athol.

Mr. Baldwin has excellent newspaper support for his Government. He is reminded that he is "fortune's favorite" in that, after his recent fall on the protectionist issue, he now enjoys a greater majority than fell to the lot of some of Great Britain's most famous Prime Ministers. Both his supporters and opponents among the newspapers congratulate the Premier on, having shown fearlessness, independence and good judgment in the selection of his cabinet.

Younger Men Suggested
The councilmen in the Conservative press are careful to explain to Mr. Baldwin that they do not want him to adopt Labor's platform, but they declare that mere stability and tranquility will not suffice, and they hint at the same time that in the distribution of the remaining Government posts some of the younger and more advanced representatives of the Conservative Party should be chosen.

Winston Spencer Churchill, new Chancellor of the Exchequer, already has made himself the central figure in public estimation and in the eyes of the public, and he is likely to continue to attract. He will move into No. 11 Downing Street when John R. Clynes vacates the house early next week.

Mr. MacDonald and his family, vacating the house, are likely to be in the immediate neighborhood. Mr. MacDonald is expected to return to his home in Scotland on Sunday.

Premier Baldwin has gone to Chequers Court in the morning, and on tonight there is a political lull, which is likely to continue until next Tuesday.

NOT INTERESTED IN WRANGEL ISLAND

WASHINGTON RESURES COLONIZATION COMPLAINTS

Right of Soviet to Raise Flag Over Island Not Disputed by United States Government

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Any complaint from the Russian Soviet authorities as to participation by American nationals in efforts to colonize Wrangel Island, off the north coast of Siberia, is likely to be ignored by the Washington Government.

The reported action of the Soviet Foreign Minister, while not mentioning Wrangel Island, is believed to have been prompted by the discovery of a party of colonists on that island when the Soviet transport, Red October, went there recently to raise the Soviet flag.

Party Asked Removal
The colonists, headed by an American named Wolfe, were taken off their own request with Winter approaching and insufficient supplies at their command. So far as is known now, no plan to detain Wolfe and the Eskimos who were with him on the island has been made by the Soviet Government.

At no time has the United States laid claim to Wrangel Island or to Herald Island, a much smaller bit of land close by. The Washington Government has refused to make any comment whatever as to what flag should fly on these islands and has not been moved to dispute the Russian claim in any way.

Soviet's Note of Warning
MOSCOW, Nov. 7.—Foreign Minister Tschitcherine has addressed a note to all of the foreign governments regarding the rights of Russia over the Arctic islands north of Siberia, which, he asserts, have recently been violated by the various powers or their nationals. The note declares that the islands in question belong to Russia and expressed confidence that all of the governments will adopt measures to prevent violations. It ends with the threat that the Soviets will demand satisfaction from governments supporting claims in opposition to these rights and which do not punish those making the claims.

A similar note was sent to the various governments some time ago.

Chicago Crime Finds Duplicate in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The body of Ernest Scherzer, thirteen, who disappeared from his Brooklyn home ten days ago, was found buried in Richmond Hill, Long Island, by detectives tonight, who said they were led to the spot by four boys, who confessed to the murder of the Scherzer boy. Young Scherzer was last seen when he went to attend to some muskrat traps near his home. The other boys later told police Scherzer left them and started for home.

Lost Population, Dying Industries Held to Misrule

Hon. Mr. Meighen Charges Mackenzie King Government With Tariff Blunders—Competition of United States Must Be Met—Would Fight Neighbor With Own Weapons

CONSERVATIVE LEADER RAPS LIBERAL ADMINISTRATION

THREE years of Liberal rule, years made bounteous although they had been by nature as never before in the history of the Dominion, nevertheless found Canada in 1924 with increased debt, with lost population, and with the business life of the country firmly gripped by depression. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Dominion leader of the Conservative party, told a mass meeting of Victorians last night in the Coliseum Theatre on his first appearance in the city in four years.

"I'm classed as a pessimist, even traitor, by some," said Mr. Meighen, "but I'm not afraid to face the truth. Let the truth be known and we can know what to do."

"We have had the three best harvests Canada has ever known. It is reasonable that enterprise should come to a halt? There is no reason unless the Government is on the wrong track in national policy."

Reviewing recent speeches here and elsewhere of Premier Mackenzie King, Hon. Mr. Meighen dubbed the Prime Minister a puppet in the hands of the Progressives and his public utterances as deceptive boasting and idle platitudes.

"Add together all these words of King and tell me the result. Is it exactly nothing? You can preach about justice and equality all you like but you will never get anywhere."

Theatre Packed
The theatre was crowded in pit, boxes and gallery to hear the Conservative leader, and his speech was received with silent cordiality. His cold, hard reasoning kept his auditors hushed in attention throughout the hour and one-half of his address, save when his impassioned periods or flashes of dry, ironic wit roused them to a tumult of applause. When he sat down eventually, the house resounded with round after round of cheering.

In the West, said Mr. Meighen, he had been criticised by Premier King for lack of a constructive programme. The Conservative party, he would reply, had its share in the past of constructive enterprise in this country. No one could believe that Canada today could tie itself to some big programme.

The Conservatives would meet the needs of the Dominion as they arose. The real constructive requirement of the Dominion was to be met. Continued on Page 8

STRESSES NEED OF PEACE RIVER AREA

COL. CORNWALL ADDRESSES RAILWAY COMMISSION

Declares Outlet to Pacific Must Be Given to Prevent Depopulation of District

VANCOUVER, Nov. 7.—Reasonable freight and direct outlet to the Pacific Coast are needed not only to make the Peace River country productive and prosperous but to keep it alive, Colonel J. K. Cornwall, pioneer resident of that part of the West, told the Board of Railway Commissioners here today.

Col. Cornwall presented a statement of rates on the Alberta & Great Waterways Railway showing that from Edmonton to Winnipeg, a distance of roughly 800 miles, the rates were as follows: First class, $1.19; second class, $1.18; third class, $1.47; and fourth class, $1.10.

Over the A. & G. W. Railway for a distance of only 254 miles, the first class rate was $1.21; second class, $1.55; third class, $1.47; and fourth class, $1.21.

People Discouraged
"People in the Peace River country are discouraged," he declared. "When they leave the country, they are doing it, they leave it as a last resort, not as a matter of choice. The fact that it is an outlet for a vast stretch of territory."

"There has been talk of bringing a million people here. That would be putting the cart before the horse. You've got to make the country behind this city prosperous first. The wealth must come from the mines, the land, timber and fisheries."

"We set the railways up in business and now it's up to them to give the settler some consideration."

ALLEGED CZAR OF HEAVEN RELEASED

With Crown of Twenty-One Oranges Fanatic Doukhobor Allowed Liberty at Nelson

NELSON, B.C., Nov. 7.—Simeon Kamelchikoff, the Czar of Heaven, Grand Forks fanatic, after several days' detention here, walked free at five o'clock this afternoon wearing his crown of twenty-one oranges, after a police quip of several hours, at which Kamelchikoff was aided by Peter Veregian was not this man. It was discovered, but another "Czar of Heaven."

Kamelchikoff is a Beasrabian who joined the Doukhobors not many years ago, presently becoming a fanatic.

WILL AUTHORIZE SALE OF P.G.E.

LEGISLATION WILL BE INTRODUCED IN B.C. HOUSE

Premier Oliver Moves Formal Resolution Urging Action by the Lieutenant-Governor

Legislation definitely authorizing the Government to sell the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and to make extensive land grants to assist such a sale, will be introduced in the Legislature immediately.

Intimation of the Government's plans was given to the House yesterday afternoon by Premier Oliver, who moved a formal resolution in favor of the P.G.E. legislation.

The Premier's resolution urges that the Lieutenant-Governor be asked to place before the House at its present session a bill "authorizing the sale of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and other assets, upon such terms and conditions as are in the said bill contained, and that the said bill do contain provision for aiding the completion of the said Pacific Great Eastern Railway to Prince George and its extension to the eastern boundary of the Province at or near the Dominion Peace River Block, and that such aid should be by means of grants of Crown lands adjacent to the said line of railway."

Irish Grant Amnesty

DUBLIN, Nov. 7.—President Cosgrave, of the Irish Free State, announced in the Dail Eireann today the granting of amnesty for political offences committed between December 6, 1921, and May 12, 1922.

MAJ. GUS LYONS TALKS FINANCE

Criticizes Method of Computation Used by Government in Explaining the Financial Position of B.C.

COST OF GOVERNMENT OUT OF PROPORTION

Recalls Salient Incidents Connected With Sweeping Victoria City of Liberal Candidates Last June

GOVERNMENT use of the Bureau of Information as a means of distributing political propaganda, was charged in the House yesterday by Major Allan (Gus) Lyons, junior member for the city of Victoria, when he spoke in the debate in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

He told about the distribution of some thousands of copies of the Vancouver Sun at the Wembley Exhibition. Each copy contained three pages of write-ups about British Columbia and the Oliver Government, the cost to the taxpayers of the Province being $100 a page. The resolution for the special pages was made by the Information Bureau on June 14, six days before the general election, and the cheque was paid to the Sun on election day, June 20.

Premier Oliver asked if the Major supposed the copies were circulated in England in connection with the absentee vote.

"The Government probably had that intention if it thought any absentee there could be brought over to British Columbia," Major Lyons retorted.

Provincial Finances

Dealing with the financial position of British Columbia, Major Lyons registered his disagreement with statements made by Liberal candidates during the last general election. It had been said that the net debt of the Province was $38,000,000, and the gross debt $71,000,000, from which was subtracted what was termed a revenue-producing debt of $14,000,000. He said, the Government had not included an item of $20,000,000 which had been guaranteed by the Province. It had been treated in the Finance Minister's report as a "contingent liability." Major Lyons claimed that it should have been added to the announced gross debt, as it was a direct liability.

On June 24, according to his figures, which he believed were absolutely accurate, loans outstanding amounted to $68,814,426. The P.G.E. guarantee amounted to $20,160,000, making a gross debt of $88,974,426, less sinking funds of $18,064,468, making a net debt of $70,910,000. There was, he said, a revenue-producing debt of $14,592,345. He challenged the Government to dispute his figures.

In seven years, he continued, the Province had borrowed a total of $52,000,000. During the same period it had extracted a total of $105,000,000 from the taxpayers, making a total amount borrowed of $157,000,000. In 1922, he pointed out, the Government would be called upon to meet maturing debts totalling $14,500,000, and in the following year it must meet debts of $10,000,000, all payable in New York and in United States currency.

Early Bond Sales

It was a simple matter for the member for Kamloops to grow optimistic about the ability of British Columbia to sell bonds, to compare that ability with conditions during the administration of Sir Richard McBride. In the time of the McBride Government bonds were not looked upon as an investment proposition by the general public. Since that time, however, bond houses had opened up in all cities and towns. "In the McBride days, neither Victoria nor Vancouver contained a bond house; now, he pointed out, they contained dozens of them. The people had become educated to investment in bonds, and consequently the way was made easy for disposal of nearly any issue of bonds backed by a government."

In order to bring home to the Government the financial position of British Columbia, Major Lyons quoted the following figures, vouching for their accuracy.

Government expenditure per capita in the nine provinces of the Dominion:

New Brunswick, $1.22; Nova Scotia, $1.37; Prince Edward Island, $1.22; Quebec, $1.20; Ontario, $1.35; Manitoba, $1.10; Saskatchewan, $1.50; Alberta, $1.65; British Columbia, $1.24.

Per Capita Figures

Government debt charges per capita, four Western provinces: Manitoba, $2.55; Saskatchewan, $1.34; Alberta, $1.43; British Columbia, $1.71.

Per capita charges for education: Quebec, 74 cents; Manitoba, $3.43; Saskatchewan, $4.16; Alberta, $4.48; British Columbia, $6.01.

Government expenditure on bridges: Manitoba, .83 cents; Saskatchewan, $1.05; Alberta, $1.03; British Columbia, $5.95.

Legislation and general government: Manitoba, $1.33; Saskatchewan, $1.35; Alberta, $2.44; British Columbia, $7.49.

"Unfortunately for some people," I quoted these figures in the general election campaign and the result is well known," remarked the fourth member for Victoria.

German Painter Dead

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—Hans Thoma, German painter, died at Karlsruhe today.

Mr. Twigg's speech was also a maiden effort, but it was, by general consent, equal to the finest performance of an old parliamentary hand. It was especially happy in its reactions upon the Premier, who was frequently on his feet in reproof, correction and instruction of his tormentor. Mr. Twigg drew first blood when he congratulated the First Minister on being there at all. When he had finished, he said, "Hon. John Oliver had been in full retreat from Victoria. He was happy to know that the Premier had achieved a rebirth in Nelson. The Premier had been politically dead before he went to that place. Mr. Twigg invited the new Liberal members to assert

The Session

Victoria's Day in the House—As Socrates Said—Politics and the Veterans—Church Union Again—Messrs. Lyons, Twigg and Hinchliffe

The Press Gallery, Friday.

It was Victoria's day in the House, and the three of its four members who took the floor made it a field day. Two of them were new members. The third, if not an old, was a seasoned veteran of the assembly. They were all veterans of the Great War. They were all, also, of the Conservative opposition. Major Gus Lyons, M.C., fourth member, was followed by Mr. H. D. Twigg, third, and he by Mr. Joshua Hinchliffe, senior member, and the only one of the capital city's quota who was also in the last House. They were unable to make any considerable breach in the atony wall of silence by the Government forces, but their successive sorties, of which the two first were decidedly of the lively sort, did serve to indicate that the Government was not so invulnerable as it seemed. The Premier himself was forced from his seat on several occasions by Mr. Twigg, and the latter's rapier got home more than once behind the back of the first minister. Honorable members adjourned for the Thanksgiving and Armistice period with a pleasurable feeling that things were warming up at last.

Mr. Thomas Uphill, Labor member for Fernie, has been industrious in the Provincial Library ever since yesterday, when Mr. Creery, Provincial member for Vancouver City, adorned his maiden speech with various quotations from the classical writings in the Latin tongue. It is credibly rumored that Mr. Uphill, when he addresses the House next week, is likely to begin his speech with something like this: As Socrates said at Carthage, Mr. Speaker—

A doubt expressed by the member for Mary Todd Island as to whether Socrates had ever said anything at Carthage was readily met by the member for Fernie, who replied that Socrates would undoubtedly have said something at Carthage if he had thought of it; and that, anyhow, if it was not at Carthage it was somewhere else outside the Province.

Returned soldier members of the House—there are ten of them—are not a unit even in matters pertaining to the war. No such unanimity was evident today, when Col. Cy. Peck, V.C., Conservative member for the Islands, let it be known that he would seek the resolution to be sponsored some time next week by Capt. Ian Mackenzie and Major Burde. The resolution is aimed at the members for Mary Todd Island in rejecting measures dealing with soldiers' pensions and civil re-establishment. Col. Peck's proposed amendment is silent about the Senate, but asks for the radical reorganization of the Pension Board and the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. Col. Peck makes no bones of saying that the Mackenzie-Burde resolution smacks over-keenly of politics. "I am not concerned to defend the Senate," said Col. Peck, as he handed the draft of his amendment to newspapermen today. "But this thing means too much to me to be used as a political issue. I am going to try to persuade my comrades here, all sides of the House, to see it that way." "And if the good old colored keep politics out of that," said the member for Mary Todd Island, when he heard of these manoeuvres, "he can do more than anyone else has managed to do since the boys came home."

Any hopes entertained by Hon. Attorney-General Manson that he might avert in this House at this session the outbreak of what the member for Alberni refers to as "another Holy War" were dashed by Sir Richard Odium. Mr. Manson had asked for assurance that the petition for a bill to enact Church Union in this Province would be introduced by the Attorney-General of the signatory to the petition for the Congressional Church, General Odium. He assured Mr. Manson today that that signatory was alive and well in Toronto—it was a brother of the gentleman who had just died in Ontario. The Attorney-General expressed himself as satisfied. "Which he is very far from being such," said the member for Mary Todd Island. "The end of any session that mixes in with this ill-timed business, the Presbyterian is a long way off, now, if you ask me."

It was a breezy speech which Major Gus Lyons delivered on his maiden effort in the House today. He began by paying tribute to the old commander of the Sixteenth Scottish, Col. Cy. Peck, who sits just in front of him in the House. He said he might be true, as someone had said, that he was elected by the "absent-minded" vote, but at any rate it was not an absentee vote. When Premier Oliver asked him if his objection to money spent on alleged Government propaganda—used in the distribution of newspapers at Wembley Exhibition—was because it might influence voters there, the major retorted that it would not have surprised him if absentee votes had come from England too. If there had been time enough to get to the point, the incidence of taxation became greater in each Province as you came to the Pacific across the Dominion, until it culminated in British Columbia in a per capita assessment double that of any other Province. "Go West, young man, and grow up with the country," he said, in approving comment on Major Lyons' maiden speech.

Mr. Twigg's speech was also a maiden effort, but it was, by general consent, equal to the finest performance of an old parliamentary hand. It was especially happy in its reactions upon the Premier, who was frequently on his feet in reproof, correction and instruction of his tormentor. Mr. Twigg drew first blood when he congratulated the First Minister on being there at all. When he had finished, he said, "Hon. John Oliver had been in full retreat from Victoria. He was happy to know that the Premier had achieved a rebirth in Nelson. The Premier had been politically dead before he went to that place. Mr. Twigg invited the new Liberal members to assert themselves against the party machine, the pressure of which they were already feeling, he alleged, so that they were unable to enjoy their natural desire for expression in a debate which should canvass the needs of the Province from all points of view. He saw the Government hanging on to power, "by the grace of God and the Labor party and the honorable member for Alberni," and the House cheered the jibe in which he called the member for Alberni the uncrowned Premier of British Columbia.

Mr. Joshua Hinchliffe, senior member for Victoria, whose speech concluded the debate for the week, stirred the dust of party politics in Vancouver City. His allusions to some "master hand," which he saw in the affair of the public commissionership, was relieved often by the Liberal benches, and earned the professional commendation, in the article of debating craft, of the member for Mary Todd Island.

The reverend gentleman is very neat, very," said that statesman, "that's what I call a sweet thing in allusion." The members adjourned over the Thanksgiving week-end in a mood appropriate to the holiday. No angry passions had been stirred in the first week of the session. Sponsor of Church Union Bill Hears That Signatory is Still Much Alive—May Act This Week

Not to be outdone by the Government leader in the matter of pleading for the utmost dispatch in prosecution of the public's business in the Legislature, Mr. R. H. Pooley, Opposition leader, urged at the opening of yesterday's sitting that the Government bring down as many bills as possible during the progress of the debate on the Speech from the Throne so that private members might have time to digest them before they came up for debate.

Attorney-General Manson said he was thoroughly in accord and drew attention to the fact that he had already given notice of four bills, and had another on the way. Mr. Manson expressed the opinion that altogether too much time was wasted in holding two general debates, one on the speech and the other on the budget. Personally, he thought one was enough. There were some bills, however, which required consultation with his followers in the House before their introduction, and this might take a little time, he said.

Several private bills were advanced a stage, including the two Point Grey bills and Victoria's bill, and not the least in importance the Church Union Bill. Gen. Odium explained that Rev. James Pedley, the signatory, was still alive, notwithstanding Attorney-General Manson's suggestion yesterday to the contrary, and no further point of order was taken.

MR. MEIGHEN'S VISIT

The fleeting visit paid here by Mr. Arthur Meighen, the Federal leader of the Conservative Party, is an earnest of his desire to keep in touch with all parts of the Dominion. It is questionable if there ever was a political leader in this country who traveled so much within Canada. Mr. Meighen's services are in constant request. The fact that he continues to gain ground in the estimation of the people of Canada is due to his constant contact with them. His energy and his attention to the business of politics are unrivaled in the country. His knowledge of the affairs of the Dominion is not unequalled. His ability as a public speaker and debater continues to become enhanced with the constant extension of the range of his experience.

Mr. Meighen made an excellent impression at the public meeting he addressed here last evening. The pity of it is that a larger hall was not selected. He had much to tell the people about conditions in Canada, much which they can learn with advantage to their future actions in choosing political representatives. He is a logical and powerful speaker. No politician in the country has a better grasp of facts; no one can lay them before the public in such an inexorable way. The Conservative Party has in its Federal leader one who has devoted himself heart and soul to the task. He has brought the resources of an unusually strong intellect to bear on Canada's problems. As time goes on he will leave a deeper and deeper impression on the political history of the Dominion.

Mr. Meighen is of the type of leadership which believes in getting information at first hand. That is why, except when the House of Commons is in session, he is continually traveling and exchanging ideas with the people in every corner of the country. There is no by-election too far afield to prevent his being present. He is a monument of industry and activity, and in this respect an example and an incentive to others upon whom the country has placed political responsibility. His visit to Victoria has been all too brief, but its brevity is compensated by the fact that he has been warmly welcomed by a representative gathering, a gathering which was able to give him renewed assurance of what he already knows, namely, that this city is a Conservative stronghold.

A REAWAKENING SPIRIT

The co-operative movement for the development of Vancouver Island is now well launched. It should receive the solid support of every member of the Provincial Legislature for the districts concerned, and it should be in their own interest to foster this co-operative movement, consult constantly with their constituents, and discuss those problems which in future are to be considered by the Island as a whole. Apart from the Island's desire to obtain better terms from the Provincial Government there are numerous problems calling for solution. There is the problem of increased industrial activity, and in this connection we say again that the Associated Boards of Trade in their reawakened activity should set to work to compile all available data respecting the resources which should form the basis of industrial enterprise. Without knowledge, or with only half knowledge, the case for development will halt. The Island through its spokesmen should be in a position to tell capital about productive investments. All information, conservatively gathered, should be made accessible to intending settlers, and, indeed, were such information always obtainable and kept up-to-date, there is no doubt that it could be used as a lever to induce those looking for homes and investments to turn their attention in this direction.

Industrial development is, and should be, the keynote of the new co-operative movement. Lumber is the richest of Vancouver Island's resources. There should be a concentrated effort made to have this lumber manufactured at home, not exported in its unmanufactured state for the benefit of others. That is a question that is not political but economic. It is a matter about which we believe there is an overwhelming majority of public opinion on Vancouver Island. There are the problems of fisheries and mineral development, of settlement roads, and a score and one other aspects of fostering industrial prosperity. An excellent spirit has been created, first, by the Island tour undertaken by members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, supplemented and cemented by the gathering of Island representatives held at Duncan on Wednesday. What remains to be done now is to promote sustained effort on the basis of a gathering volume of information that will tend to solve our problems, either with governmental assistance or through the enterprise and initiative of our own residents. It is far more important than any governmental assistance that may be obtained, to foster the spirit of enterprise and initiative, to persuade our people that it is mainly a question of hard work and concentrated energy that will lead to the development of our resources. We have got to have greater faith in ourselves. The more we have and the more we show it by tangible results the more will be the inducement to outside capital to come and invest here.

SCHOOL TEXT BOOKS

It is not only in British Columbia but in Quebec as well that objection is taken to the character of some of the text books used in the schools. In the latter province there has been particularly severe criticism of "The Story of World Progress" which is used in the study of history in the High Schools. This text book may be read from end to end and that student would hardly realize that such a country as the Dominion exists. It is printed in the United States and is primarily devised for American consumption. However the idea was conceived of bringing to the Canadian edition without altering the text. It is used in many High Schools of this country and the information, and the lack of information, which it imparts may be gathered from a few particulars: It tells that the Panama Canal was built by the United States. It does not mention who constructed the Suez Canal. In speaking of an era of vast consolidation of capital and management it quotes "flouring centres like Minneapolis, meat-packing centres like Chicago and money centres like Wall Street." In matters of transportation development it quotes railroads in the United States, but ignores the Canadian Pacific and other world organizations. In the history of the Great War there is a list of five lines dealing with Canada, and practically the whole history of this event is devoted to the part played by the United States.

The foregoing are only a few of the examples of the character of the stuff which Canadian pupils are expected to learn. There is a justifiable outcry in Quebec where it is felt that the story of world progress which should undoubtedly be learned should be studied from a text book that is at least impartial and in which the writer has information which goes far beyond the bounds of any one country. We have an educational commission inquiring into the matter of reform in British Columbia and in one aspect it can hardly do better than make a complete overhaul of the text books used in our public schools.

Often it is apparent that these are not chosen by educationists. Sometimes it is the case that there is an ulterior motive to serve in the choice of books. There is too great subservience to books which are written in the United States and the fact is forgotten that education which has to be applied there to a polyglot people is mainly based on the purpose of teaching them Americanism. This is peculiarly the case where history text books are concerned. The text book, "The Story of World Progress," is a notorious example. Canada by now should have sufficient educationists to furnish their own text books. If she has not there is British opinion upon which to draw, and the educational system in the Motherland is superior to that of the United States in practically every phase of human advancement.

"We fight," says The Ottawa Journal, "over the necessary tariff to protect us from American competition; but how in the name of common sense is an over-tax Canadian industry to compete with an industry over the line whose taxation grows lighter every year? If you live in Ottawa today and have an income of $4,000 you pay the Government $80 in taxes. Your competitor who lives in Ogdenburg and who gets the same income pays $22.50. If you live, say, in Toronto you pay the Government $55.00 you pay the Government $12.00. Your competitor who lives in Buffalo, and who gets the same income, pays $37. If you live in Windsor and have an income of $6,000 you pay Mr. Robb $178. Your American competitor in Detroit, on the same salary, pays Uncle Sam $57. And the discrimination grows worse—for the Canadian—as incomes increase."

"It is not justice that the West is demanding, but special privileges," says L'Evenement. "It will not accept with good grace the Crow's Nest judgment of the Railway Commission; but the Progressives are speaking of appealing to the highest civil courts against a decision rendered by experts. Realizing the weakness of their cause, however, they are starting a political agitation, the avowed purpose of which is to attempt to lead Parliament to censure a commission that it created. 'This is once more the sabotage of our institutions that is to be found on the programme of this party of radical Socialists.'"

A recent issue of The Calgary Alberta says in ironic vein: "Seven thousand people turned out to the girls' basketball game in Edmonton on Tuesday night, and 48 persons, all told, including candidates and camp-followers, on the same night attended the four political meetings. Despite all that comes and goes, Edmonton people still have a grasp and consideration of the essentials."

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Mayor Owen of Vancouver is going to offer Hon. T. Duff Pattullo the sum of One Dollar for the Capilano forest reserve. We expect it will take the Minister some little time to smooth down his hair and adjust his tie after he receives the more or less generous offer of Mr. Owen; for Mr. Pattullo seems to think the Capilano forest reserve is worth much more money than One Dollar, and he has stated emphatically, if not angrily, that the timber on that reserve is the property of all the people of the Province, and that if the people of Vancouver want it they must pay for it. Furthermore, Mr. Pattullo says he can prove by expert testimony that cutting timber from the now famous reserve would not affect the collection and conservation of water for the city of Vancouver.

Nevertheless, we fear the Minister of Lands will be compelled to smooth down his ruffled feathers and give serious consideration to the offer of Mayor Owen. If he doesn't surrender we expect the Government will ignore his agitated plimpage and enter into and complete negotiations with representatives of Vancouver.

It looks as if Mr. Pattullo has been told that the future of the Government is of greater importance than the dignity of any Minister in the Government. The Government, in time of fact, is not so strong in the Legislature that it can afford to defy public opinion in the important political centre of Vancouver, whether that sentiment be right or wrong. The Government would like to buttress its rather weak position by bestowing a portfolio on one of the members from Vancouver. It will probably try such an interesting experiment before the Legislature meets again, and if that interesting experiment is to be successful, public opinion in Vancouver must be conciliated.

We have often wondered why Mr. Pattullo did not see that such a denouement was inevitable. Doubtless he has been told that such a denouement is inevitable, because we notice that he has been quite silent lately on the subject of the Capilano timber and water reserve. The Government will have trouble enough on its hands trying to reconcile the claims of the "loggers" for Vancouver to that portfolio without also having to abate the anger of the electors of Vancouver on the subject of the reserve.

Now that the election in the United States is over we suppose the atmosphere from which the miraculous radio derives its powers to please will no longer be cluttered up with political speeches. Instead of being broadcasted, the voices of the "loggers" should be limited to the smallest possible area. But we are nervous about this matter. The text which we shall hear is that broadcasting machines are being installed in the halls of Congress and in the chambers of all the Legislatures of this great continent. Then we shall be cast into the midst of a "pretty kettle of fish." We shall insist upon some assurance on this point ere we are tempted to bite at any of the alluring bait tangled before our eyes by radio agents.

We are frequently smitten with feelings of amazement when we read of the wonderful discoveries of men of science and research. A few days ago one of those diggers and delvers announced to a startled world that he had discovered some drops of water well advanced in years. If that learned and astounding gentleman had the good fortune to live in Victoria we could take him down to one of our numerous beaches and show him, not a couple of drops of water millions of years old, but millions upon millions of tons of water millions upon millions of years old. Surely all the waters of the great deep must be just as aged as any of the little drops of water the sun has drawn from it and deposited in out-of-the-way places!

However, we temporarily reassured respecting one of the dangerous experiments of the men of advanced science. The Sheffield scientist who is trying to split the atom has not yet succeeded in doing it. That particular atom that he has captured and is experimenting upon appears to be determined to go its own way and live its own life. The electrons of which it is composed, and which buzz around it after the manner of all the electrons composing the great universe, are hard to shunt out of their ordained path.

Possibly it is just as well that the atom cannot be exploded, if all the things said about the potential powers are true. The atoms of which we are said to be composed are performing their functions quite satisfactorily at the present time. We do not want to have them exploded by the explosive power of any other atom or train of atoms. If the crack of doom is going to be produced in that way, we cannot possibly live and take any interest in the grand spectacle. The time is sure to come when we shall not care what happens to our special collection of atoms and electrons, but in the meantime we do not desire that the great and final crisis of our life shall be precipitated. We hesitate to say it, but we cannot help thinking that there is a good deal of what the boys call "bunk" in the atomic theory.

Mr. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King should not linger on his way to Ottawa. He should rush back and place the "autonomy" of Canada, of which he is the self-appointed guardian angel, in a strong and safe place.

There is an Imperialistic Government in power in Great Britain. No one can tell what it may be up to.

NOVEMBER 8

On the slope of a hill in Mount Royal Cemetery in Montreal is a plain granite stone with the simple inscription, "Merchant." "Philanthropist—Educationalist." The only other inscription in the name of Sir William McDonald. It is a fitting memorial to a man who, in spite of enormous wealth, lived to the end of his life as an unassuming citizen. He was born in Prince Edward Island, the grandson of a British officer who settled in Canada. He became a tobacco merchant and amassed millions. He was a bachelor, but his natural interests led him to befriending boys and girls by making education more interesting and more practical. He realized that the sort of education young Canadians needed was that which would prepare them for building up a nation out of the great natural resources lying to hand. Associated with him was James Wilson Robertson, who was able to put the ideas into action. Thus Sir William originated manual training in twenty-one schools in Montreal. His introduction into the public schools. He founded the first consolidated rural schools and established MacDonald College at St. John's, Bellevue, to experiment in training leaders in agriculture, home-making and teaching. On this day in 1907 the unique institution was opened. He was keenly interested in promoting research in agriculture, and the present Canadian Seed Growers' Association owes its origin to seed growing contests conducted by Sir William. Another of the gifts to education is McGill's Engineering Building. In his work Sir William spent over eight millions of dollars upon the cause of education in Canada.

Today, November 8 Is the Anniversary of:

Birth of Edward Pocock, Oriental scholar, 1604.
Birth of Admiral John Byron, celebrated navigator, grandfather of the poet; Newcastle Abbey, 1725.
Death of John Dunlop Scotus, the noted scholar and theologian; Cologne, 1808.
Death of Cardinal Ximenes, or Jimenez, the famous Spanish minister in the reign of Charles V.; Roa, 1517.
Death of John Milton, the great English poet; London, 1674.
Death of Madame Roland, prominent figure in the French Revolution; guillotined by the Jacobins, Paris, 1793.
Death of Hon. Henry Rhodes, pioneer merchant of Victoria; 1878.
Death of W. Clark Russell, noted writer of sea stories; London, 1912.
Removal of Southern delegates from the British steamer Trent, which nearly led to war between Britain and the United States; 1861.

A Costly Project

Sir—I am just down here on a visit, but my home is in Yale, where I have lived many years. I see in a Vancouver paper that the Automobile Association want the old wagon road opened during the coming year. Well, I know every foot of that road as far as Lytton, and the cost will be something enormous. The highway to hold the road across the dry gulches in all rotten, and will cost thousands of dollars to repair. To say nothing of the fact that the C.P.R. has taken portions of the road in many places.

The Government says it will pay the auto license fees for the road in repair. If it was constructed! It means an enormous expenditure of money, and for what? The road is a strip. As for location, the Fraser River is undoubtedly the best, as the Hope Mountain would only be passable for two to three months in the year.

H. STRONCH, Yale, B.C., Nov. 7, 1924.

Appeal From Bishop and Dean

Sir—We believe that Christian people only need to be reminded of the fact that next Sunday, November 9, is the Sunday nearest the sixtieth anniversary of the signing of the armistice. An order to fill our places of worship to overflowing on that day. They will come in grateful remembrance of the signing of the armistice and the lives for their sake, in thankfulness for the ending of the Great War, and in prayer that the spirit of service and peace shall be maintained and which buzz around it after the manner of all the electrons composing the great universe, are hard to shunt out of their ordained path.

CHARLES COLUMBIA, CECIL S. QUANTON, Victoria, B.C., November 7, 1924.

Timber Taxation

Sir—Space forbidding, it is only possible to give an outline of the impossibility of imposing any further taxes upon a taxed timber industry. A glance at the map of Vancouver Island will show the E. and N. land grant in this section carries the principal part of the Island, and does not come under the tax, as it applies to timber licensees. The only other part that is reasonably accessible is on the head waters of the Alberni Canal, Spruce and Great Chief lakes, also from Nimble Lake south. The timber from Port San Juan to the head of the Island on the West Coast is principally hemlock, with spruce, cedar and balsam, carrying from ten to fifteen per cent. The majority of this timber is only suitable for pulpwood. The same conditions exist on the East Coast above the Nimble. The fir belt in the centre of the Island can only be exploited at great expense. The tax of $1.25 as at present brings the value of logs on T.L. to about $14 per M. camp run. If any excess tax is added to this it will add to the cost of the logs so as to keep our mills from competing in the world's market.

A gentlemen's agreement was entered into by the millmen and a former government that if the tax on T.L. exceeded $18.50 they would be prepared to pay the additional tax, logs at that time being about $10 per camp run, with the idea that the loss would be, as today, $18 under normal conditions.

Under an increased taxation, no licensed areas will be developed, and increased development of the E. and N. grant will take place; prices of stumpage will advance and have the effect of shutting our mills out from foreign markets.

Mr. Oliver was quoted as stating that the licensees were in the hands of speculators. Admitting this, he must be well aware that a speculator can hold his claim for twenty years without any increase in his taxes and can hold his areas at about 14 cents per M. a year; this includes interest. It is the logger, millmen and consumers who pay the tax the moment the timber is cut. If he has to pay any added taxation to his stumpage costs, he cannot meet competition in the open market and of necessity goes out of business.

Instead of contemplating imposing any restrictions upon our only contented industry, it rather would be of more moment to conserve it. It is a well known fact that some few narrow-minded men will deliberately, during depression, set fire to our timber to secure employment for fire-fighters. If a long term of imprisonment was imposed for such an offence it might have a deterrent effect. Conservation and re-forestation are an absolute necessity, as practiced in Norway and Sweden, and failure to do so is evident in Ontario, Wisconsin, Minnesota and other sections being despoiled of their timber.

If competent men were employed in re-forestation as well as guarding our timber against fire of all classes, it would go far toward preserving our principle resource and industry. The taxes on which the Government about $3,000,000 per annum, which under proper guidance should keep us out of debt.

It certainly behooves us to foster the gold laying goose, and preserve it by conservation and economical taxation, so as to meet successfully all competition.

JNO. DOUGALL, McGregor Block, Victoria, B.C., November 5, 1924.

Church Union

Sir—In your issue of the 7th inst. there appeared a letter from Mr. T. Humphries on some aspects of my recent address on the subject of Church Union. I am glad of the opportunity it affords of elucidating some phases of the question unavoidably omitted in my address.

I regret that Mr. Humphries did not grasp the point in my reference to the removal of the so-called conservative features of the Bill when presented at Ottawa. The Unionists offered to amend the draft legislation by placing the period of voting six months prior to the time the Act became effective. This offer the anti-Unionists rejected. The Presbyterian Association in its published statement says: "We successfully resisted this coercive proposal with the result that the Act now provides that the Unionists must wait six months before the Act comes into force, any congregation may, by a majority vote, decide whether or not to join the United Church of Canada." It is a matter of record that when the Bill was amended, making this change, the Unionists acquiesced according to their formal proposal, but the anti-Unionists strenuously opposed it, both by sending a message to every member of the House and by the direct appeal of their counsel. It is in the Act today, in spite of the opposition of the anti-Unionists.

Mr. Humphries claims that "the spiritual independence" of the church proves the church will be a "creedless church." In the Apostolic Age the church was spiritually free and independent to follow her Lord Jesus Christ, and so at the First Council at Jerusalem, the church adopted a new principle and polity in dealing with the members of the church. The church was a "creedless church." The fact is that only where the church is spiritually free to follow the truth can there be a real creed which of true and honest men accept. A creed which does not represent the spiritual allegiance of the people is not a living creed, and must remain either a formal statement or a mark for hypocrisy.

I am sorry that Mr. Humphries imagined that I held up to ridicule the doctrinal standards of the Presbyterian Church. I have never found it in my heart to ridicule the sincere religious beliefs of any people, however erroneous I may believe their doctrines to be. I simply pointed out the "distinctive doctrine" of the Presbyterian Church as defined by the anti-Unionists in their statement of the church. In terms of its spiritual essence—love, worship, spiritual life, zeal and service—he would not fail to see that all that was essential persisted in the new church as vitally as in the old. Identity is not in material things, but in spiritual reality. If "identity" be defined in terms of visible, material things, as individuals have long lost the identity of our childhood, but no one doubts that the spiritual reality, the ego, the personality still, persists without loss of "identity."

It is worth noting that Mr. Humphries has not challenged the accuracy of my statement of the differences between the United Church and the new Presbyterian Church to be organized. I am surprised to find Mr. Humphries so utterly at variance with historic Presbyterianism. The adoption of the Confession of Faith as an entirely new standard, the changes of worship, discipline and polity have all been by and through church courts, never by vote of the people.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Columbia of November 8, 1874.)
The storm—The Sunday of the 8th inst. was a day of unusual calm. The night with a rage almost unexampled. Hundreds of fences were leveled to the ground, many sheds carried away, and trees uprooted in Ranch and agricultural districts, but we heard of no disaster by sea or land involving the loss or injury of persons.

The steamer Enterprise, with the following passengers, returned from New Westminster yesterday afternoon: Mr. and Mrs. Kinsman, Mrs. Peckie, Col. Blair, C. R. Brown, E. Brown, C. T. Millard, McManis, Williams, Muirhead, Macnam, M. Morley.

Runs in the family: In a boat race in San Francisco on November 1, J. T. Wall rowed against C. Allen for a silver medal, distance three miles, and won. Wall is a brother of C. J. Wall, champion of Vancouver Island.

Here Is Something Unique

Nothing Like It on the Market

We have for sale, at Cadboro Bay, a site of about one acre, which possesses the requisites for gardens of all sorts. A high, dry building site, with a splendid view, and a moisture-seeping slope, already terraced and drained by nature.

Victoria is justly proud of her rockland gardens with their wealth of floral display, also of her noble homes on the levels and lowlands, with the beauty of their shrubberies, trees, lawns and parks. During the long, dry Summer, the upkeep and watering of the flower beds, rock gardens and lawns is an expensive item. To establish a garden on the growing of ferns, and moisture-loving plants would be prohibitive in cost, and has not, so far, been attempted in the city.

This site gives an unsurpassed opportunity for anyone who can realize its possibilities for establishing something quite new in the way of ferneries, rockeries and growing moisture-loving plants. Clear running springs and natural slopes and terraces are already supplied by nature.

The property adjoins the Uplands and overlooks Cadboro Bay, with its yacht club, beach and Indian fosse. It is close to the golf links, and within twelve minutes of the car.

doctrine, the essence of the Christian Faith. The United Church gives the liberty my own church gave, and the Church of England I must go into the United Church.

Mr. Humphries seems to feel that if only the Confession of Faith in its historic meaning (which is the basis of the United Church) is accepted by members and office bearers there would be no heresy within the fold. If no Presbyterian Church in the world has been so strict in adherence to the Confession as in Scotland. Will Mr. Humphries explain how it is that in Scotland there have been many heresy trials than in any other country?

The statement that the churches unite without loss of identity seems to me a contradiction. Identity was accepted by the Established Church of Scotland and the United Free Church and by them placed in the Imperial Act of 1921. Scotch Presbyterians have no difficulty with either the word or the principle it contains. Possibly Mr. Humphries is not thinking in terms of the real meaning of the word. He evidently is thinking of some formal, material, individualistic sign of identity. If he thought of the church in terms of its spiritual essence—love, worship, spiritual life, zeal and service—he would not fail to see that all that was essential persisted in the new church as vitally as in the old. Identity is not in material things, but in spiritual reality. If "identity" be defined in terms of visible, material things, as individuals have long lost the identity of our childhood, but no one doubts that the spiritual reality, the ego, the personality still, persists without loss of "identity."

It is worth noting that Mr. Humphries has not challenged the accuracy of my statement of the differences between the United Church and the new Presbyterian Church to be organized. Dance at St. Mary's Hall

Most enjoyable was the private invitation subscription dance held last night at St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay, when a large number of guests assembled for the first of a series of these delightful affairs. Zala's orchestra supplied an excellent selection of dance music, and during the evening refreshments were served. The guests included Dr. and Mrs. D. M. Ballie, Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Ride-wood, Dr. and Mrs. MacCallum, Mr. and Mrs. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Fort, Mr. and Mrs. Birnie, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. Schaff, Mr. and Mrs. Gillett, Mr. and Mrs. Mogge, Mr. and Mrs. Goodlake, Mr. and Mrs. Preston, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Nation, Mr. and Mrs. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Melrose, Mr. and Mrs. Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Straker, Mr. and Mrs. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Tannard, Mrs. Ponton, Mrs. Cree, Mrs. H. Coombe, Mrs. Wickham Smith, Mrs. Hartley, Miss Ashworth, Miss Cochran, Miss Pemberton, Miss Huxley, Capt. Knight, Capt. Merston, Messrs. Roy Halliday, Steery, Wallace, Dalby, Foulkes, Fitzpatrick and others. A similar dance will take place on December 5.

Hosts at "Pinchholm"

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davies entertained about thirty guests at a most enjoyable dance at their residence, "Pinchholm." Burleigh. Most of the ladies attended in quaint but charming fancy dress. The music was supplied by Clarence Holder's Bluebird Orchestra, who, by request, played several numbers given at the Private Club ball. The members of the orchestra, Alf. Ford, Arthur Holt, Frank Hall and the leader, Clarence Holder, gave solo numbers which were much appreciated. Delightful refreshments were provided during the evening. Mah jong and the new cross-word puzzle game were played by the non-dancers. A waltzing contest with Clarence Holder as referee was staged and was won by Mrs. W. H. Davies and Mr. F. J. Merriman. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Al. Davies, Miss Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Merriman, the Misses Grace Temple, Margaret Glover, Grace Heston, Erickson, Pollard, Green, Marjorie Wiffin, Mobley, Tylter, Messrs. W. Woodley, Alf. Ford, Clarence Holder, Arthur Holt, Frank Hall, G. Heston, B. Moore, Austin Flint, W. Huxtable, A. N. A. Davies, J. Davies and others.

Halloween Party

A very delightful fancy dress Halloween party was given last evening at Victoria College by the attending students. The faculty of the college acted as chaperons to the some two hundred guests, who danced to the music of Carver's orchestra till 12 o'clock. The classrooms and assembly hall were used for dancing and were decorated with the college banners and shield and the usual Halloween decorations. During the evening delicious refreshments were served. The success of the evening was due to the management and untiring work of the following: Mr. Ray Bowers, Mr. Bert Bailey, Mr. John Foubister, Miss Nancy Ross, Miss Graham, Miss McDonald. Prizes were given for the most original and prettiest ladies' and gentlemen's costumes. Prizes were awarded as follows: Miss Mona Gibson, prettiest costume; Donald Adams, best men's costume; Miss Mary Hamilton, most original costume.

Bridge and Mah Jong Hostess

Mrs. H. J. Wason was hostess on Thursday and yesterday afternoon at bridge and mah jong at her home on Pemberton Road. On Thursday her guests were Lady McBride, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Little, Mrs. Heyland, Mrs. Sutherland, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Shallice, Mrs. Arthur Robertson, Mrs. Fred Jones, Mrs. H. D. Twigg, Mrs. Charles Todd, Mrs. L. A. Genge, while additional guests at the tea hour included Mrs. Tilton, Davis, Mrs. Biggerstaff Wilson, Mrs. J. Wilson, Mrs. Goulding Wilson, Miss Rennie. PLAN SCOTTISH CONCERT

One of the most enjoyable of the winter season meetings was held on Thursday evening by the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society at the K. of P. Hall. During the business session the social committee reported that a full and varied programme had been completed, and all was in readiness for the Scottish concert to be held on November 28, at the Chamber of Commerce Hall, to celebrate St. Andrew's night. A progressive report was also given referring to the Old Country fair and sale of work to be held by the society on December 4 at the K. of P. Hall, starting at 2:30 and finishing with an informal dance in the evening. The McLean family have kindly consented to entertain in the afternoon with Scottish songs and dances. Miss Nancy and Miss Jean McLean being both Scottish medallists. Mr. L. McLean will give an impersonation of Harry Lauder.

The business session closing at 9 o'clock, the meeting was then thrown open to visitors and friends. Over one hundred people were present, and were entertained by the following singers: Mrs. White, Mrs. J. Dixon, Mr. D. Pye, Mr. W. White and Mr. John White, the accompanists being Miss Wallace, Mrs. Pye and Mr. J. White.

After refreshments were served a programme of dancing was indulged in, and the social finished at 11:30 with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne." It is the custom of this society to hold these social evenings once a month during the winter and to invite friends of members and Scottish visitors.

Is Building Permanent Quarters

The Anglican College as it will look when completed.

Theological College to Cost About $125,000

Permanent Quarters for Anglican Division of Institution Will Be Provided at Once as Part of University of British Columbia—Will Educate Men for Ministry of the Church—Bishops of Province Are Governors

PERMANENT accommodation for the Anglican Theological College, University of British Columbia, will be erected in the near future at a cost of $125,000, according to Principal Vance who yesterday described the project to The Colonist.

The Anglican Theological College of British Columbia is the official theological college of the ecclesiastical province of British Columbia. It is governed by the bishops of the province and elected representatives of the various dioceses. It forms an integral part of the educational system of the Church of England in Canada.

Its work is the education of men for the ministry of the church. It does not do any work covered by the Provincial educational system. It provides theological education only. The Government does not contribute to the maintenance of the college.

For the twelve years of its existence the college has occupied its own buildings in the West End of Vancouver. These buildings were merely temporary. They were never intended to be permanent.

An illuminated green of welcome completed the elaborate setting for the dance.

Nearly 200 guests danced to a late hour last night to the entrancing strains of the orchestra, which was enthusiastically applauded, while the novel lighting features played on the happy assembly by Mr. Young, of Young's Studio, was another charming attraction of the dance.

Supper a la buffet was served, under the efficient management of Alexandra House.

The success of the affair reflects great credit on the work of the committee in charge, under the leadership of Mr. W. Todd, chairman.

LAKE HILL, W.V. Lake Hill Women's Institute held a successful literary 500 party on Monday evening in the Community Hall. The first prize table was Mrs. McCullum, Mrs. Burton, Mr. Gance and Mr. Holder. Second, Mrs. Wm. Peden, Miss Douglas, Mr. Wm. Peden and Mr. Laycock. Consolation Mrs. Moody Mr. Campion Mr. Peden and Mr. Service. Ten bid winners Mrs. Knowlton and Mr. Moody.

Next Monday's drive will be held under the auspices of the Lake Hill Community Centre at 8:15 o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of the Institute was held on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Mercer the president, in the chair. Members agreed to pay ten per cent. per capita towards a prize for a Women's Institute exhibit of potatoes grown from certified seed. A donation of $5 was given to the Y.M.C.A. A report on the Island district Women's Institute conference held last month in Victoria was delivered by Miss Douglas and a vote of thanks was given her for her report.

Arrangements were made to hold a wool bee on November 13 at 10:30 a.m.

On Thursday afternoon members and friends of the Institute paid a visit to the Victoria Steam Laundry and were surprised at the new methods being used. Those who were present felt they had learned something as well as enjoying a pleasant visit.

RICH SILK CARGO ON HAWAII MARU

O.S.K. LINER DOCKED FROM ORIENT LAST NIGHT

Brought Nearly 8,000 Tons of Cargo, Including 3,400 Bales of Raw Silk and Bamboo Poles

Bringing one of the largest cargoes from the Orient for some months, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Hawaii Maru docked at the Outer Wharf at 10:30 o'clock last night, but not, however, until after some trouble. One of the ship's lines got entangled in the propeller and the vessel was blown to the far dock before the winches were under way and commenced hauling in on the cables. The vessel left for Seattle early this morning after discharging 71 tons of cargo here. There was a big shipment of silk on board valued at nearly $50,000. The total cargo shipment amounted to 3,600 bales all told.

Cargo for Tacoma totalled 5,649 tons, including 1,500 bamboo poles, a big shipment of firecrackers and tea. Seattle's consignment was 1,700 tons, while for Vancouver there were 100 tons.

Very few passengers were on board. Eleven deckhanded, deck chairs and three steerage and seven first-class passengers proceeded to Seattle.

BY-LAW TO PROTECT JITNEY PASSENGERS

Sanchez Council Authorities Preparation of Such Legislation—Tax Penalty Must Be Paid

The Sanchez Council last night instructed Messrs. Macneil and Municipal Clerk R. R. F. Sewell to prepare a by-law necessitating all operators of motor buses and jitneys in the municipality to carry public liability insurance, and in that way afford protection to their passengers in case of accident. The clerk will inform the motor bus and jitney operators in the municipality that the Council will likely introduce this by-law in the middle of January.

Several ratepayers of Sanchez who had not paid their annual taxes until after the final date of payment, October 10, requested the Council that they might escape payment of the 15 per cent. penalty. They presented reasons why they had not paid by October 10, and while members of the Council were in sympathy with their stories, the Council could not see its way clear to make any changes on their account, and decided that they must pay the penalty tax.

FEAR ELECTIONS BODE NO GOOD TO ITALY

Italian Press Comments on Recent Events in Great Britain and the United States

ROME, Nov. 7.—Comment on British and United States elections continues to appear in some sections of the Italian press, the theory being advanced by certain papers that the results of the elections may bode ill for Italy. Others emphasize that the swing toward Conservatism in Great Britain tends to indicate an imperialistic policy which may be detrimental to Italian prestige in the Mediterranean. These papers also point to the immigration restrictions of the United States as a danger to Italy.

The Popolo d'Italia, organ of Premier Mussolini, today published a leading editorial on the American election under a full page streamer, saying that the complexion of the election seems to indicate that the United States will continue the policy summed up in the words "Business is business."

League of Nations in Geneva, will lay before the Cabinet a copy of the protocol of disarmament and security which was approved at that meeting. The protocol will, of course, be submitted to Parliament at the coming session, but doubt has been expressed of the possibility of its ratification here owing to the last-minute amendment secured by the Japanese delegations.

Cabinet Reorganization. There have been rumors of Cabinet reorganization during Premier King's absence, but nothing of a definite nature along these lines is likely for some time. Three important appointments are in the offing, however. Hon. N. A. Belcourt is said to have been offered the post of Canadian Minister Plenipotentiary at Washington, and, it is rumored, his answer will be forthcoming before long.

There is a vacancy on the Board of Railway Commissioners, due to the retirement of Hon. W. B. Nairne, and for this position J. A. Ehler, Liberal member for Laval and Two Mountains, is mentioned. The post of Deputy Minister of Justice has been vacant since the elevation of Hon. E. L. Newcombe to the Supreme Court. A number of Senate vacancies also await filling.

The Government is also expected to give some attention to the St. Lawrence canal project and the Lake of the Woods situation, both of which

WILL MAKE U.S. DRY AS KANSAS EVER WAS

Washington Divine Says President Coolidge Proposes Prohibition Shall Be a Reality

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Dr. Clarence True Wilson, of Washington, D.C., chairman of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Affairs of the Methodist Episcopal Church, believes prohibition will become "a reality," according to an interview published in The Chicago Daily News today. Dr. Wilson spent an hour with President Coolidge a week ago. "I came away from the White House thoroughly convinced that President Coolidge, while proceeding cautiously, in accord with his usual practice, is determined that prohibition shall become a reality," Dr. Wilson said. "And I am willing to predict that the vigorous action which he contemplates, with the energetic support of a 'dry' Congress which he is now practically sure of receiving, will make the United States as a whole as dry as Kansas ever was in the days when the rest of the nation was dripping wet."

Mrs. Violet Carr to Be Buried at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Nov. 7.—Instructions for the burial of Mrs. Violet Carr, who died of mercerul poisoning at the Vancouver General Hospital Friday last, and in connection with whose death John O'Grady, detective, has been charged with murder, were received today from her husband at Carson, Mines, Ontario. The funeral will be held next Wednesday.

Edmonton By-Election. The University of Alberta—Official announcement of the result of the Edmonton by-election gave A. F. Ewing, Conservative, 5,451 votes, and W. T. Henry, Liberal, 5,478, and Mr. Henry is therefore declared elected by a majority, on the third count, of 27 votes. It is not considered probable that a recount will be called for.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. See recipe below.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. It stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good. Four 25¢ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make 16 ounces—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the lungs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "25¢ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

FRENCH DEPUTIES GIVEN BUDGET

GOVERNMENT PROPOSALS
DISCUSSED IN CHAMBER

More Than Half Receipts Go to Pay Interest—Upward Over Hint of Capital Levy

PARIS, Nov. 7.—The budget proposed by the Government, it was brought out at today's session of the Chamber of Deputies, amounts to 23,359,576,787 francs. This includes 632,000,000 francs for the occupation of foreign countries which is given as a separate item.

More than half the French receipts, or 17,816,593,328 francs, will go to pay the interest on loans and debts. The interest payments include 214,000,000 francs on the American 1920 loan; 245,000,000 francs on the American 1921 loan; 267,000,000 francs on the bonds given for American stocks; and 2,575,000,000 francs on the floating debt.

The war budget totals 3,693,794,000 francs, and that for the navy 1,313,104,000 francs.

Storm Breaks Out

A storm broke out when Premier Herriot, answering the attack of the opposition on the projected budget, declared that "we will take the money where it is" if necessary to reach a balance.

This statement of the Premier, interpreted as meaning the possibility of a capital levy, immediately aroused the opposition, which already had been stirred by a similar idea during the debate on the high cost of living.

COAL MANAGER LAUGHS AT CHARGES

Contractor for Fuel Supply to Winnipeg Barracks Says Finding of Commission Is a Joke

WINNIPEG, Nov. 7.—Colossal blundering and imaginary conclusions were charged today by Frederick D. Stiles, manager of the Canadian Coal Sales Co., in reply to sweeping accusations made by David Campbell, K.C., assistant attorney general, in connection with the recent Tuxedo barracks coal contract investigation. Mr. Stiles charged the investigation to political motives. He charged the report to criminal action as based on purely imaginary findings of the commission, and declared that the report of the commission was wrong from both the clerical and mathematical viewpoint.

"The report is a joke. I saw it a fortnight ago and laughed. Everyone is laughing," he is reported to have said.

The Campbell commission, according to The Winnipeg Tribune, charges the Canadian Coal Sales Company with securing $100,000 fraudulently in connection with coal supplied to Military District No. 10 in Winnipeg. Officers mentioned in the report today declined to comment on the matter. Major-General H. D. Ketchen declared that "the real facts are not known, and I will talk when the time is opportune."

AIRCRAFT AT COST OF CHEAP FLIVVER

Celebrated Airplane Maker Declares
In Twenty Years Price of Aerial
Tin Lizzie Would Be $500

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—H. G. Fokker, the airplane manufacturer, who arrived from England today on the Mauretania, predicted that within twenty years aircraft would be selling for $500.

"Almost everyone will be flying then," he added, "because planes will be less expensive than motor cars. I am convinced that within ten years we shall be crossing the Atlantic within twenty-four hours, carrying mail and passengers."

The primitive method of coaling labor, still seen in the case of the coal miners, forms a striking contrast to modern machinery in this country.

Sidney Music Lovers Hear Concert Party

THE CONCERT PARTY

SIDNEY, Nov. 6.—The concert given by Mr. Edward Parsons and his orchestra, Tuesday night in Herquist Hall, under the auspices of the North Saanich Women's Institute, was one of exceptional merit.

Miss Beatrice Griffin, who opened the programme, showed herself to be a brilliant pianist, her solo, "Paraphrase from Illegio," displaying her wonderful execution and memory. Mr. Percy Edmunds sang beautifully "When the Ebb Tide Flows," "The Admiral's Broom," and, by special request, "The Trumpeter," bringing down the house. Mrs. Lilian Knight was well received with her two solos, "Urvanella" and "The Slave Song," well suited to her lovely voice. Miss Mabel Humphries sang "The Little Brown Owl," and "The Old Fashioned Town," and got well merited applause for both. Mr. Bryant, who was in splendid voice, sang "For Thee Alone." Mrs. E. Parsons concluded each part of the programme with vocal solos, "When Celia Sings" and "Good-bye to Summer," the former being specially suited to her soprano voice. Miss Griffin also gave two recitations. Miss Griffin, in both her piano solos and recitations, proved to be a talented artist.

Mr. Parsons, with his beautiful accompaniment, added greatly to the concert. Mr. S. Deaville assisted him. Every item was encored, the artists good naturedly responding to the great pleasure of the audience.

At the close of the programme Mrs. B. Deacon, on behalf of the institute, gave Mr. Parsons a hearty vote of thanks and presented each lady with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Mr. Parsons suitably replied.

Supper was then served, the tables being prettily decorated with vases of flowers. A dance followed, the music being supplied by the Sidney Orchestra.

EX-SIDNEY PASTOR NOW AT HOWE SOUND

The Rev. T. H. Wright, B.A., has been unanimously invited to continue as pastor of the Howe Sound Mission church, which was held in conference last year. Many complimentary references were made by the official members of the board to Mr. Wright as preacher and pastor. Mr. Wright was formerly stationed at residence at Sidney, Mr. Wright's eldest son, Lieutenant Douglas Archibald Wright, B.C.L., attended his first school at Sidney and later that of his father and science in Vancouver. He had completed his second year in applied science in McGill University when the great war broke out. He enlisted and went to the front and won his commission on the field. At the Battle of Amiens, on August 12, 1918, while leading his platoon into action, he was killed.

His father felt he had still to carry on, and he pursued his studies as well as his work with his military and industrial work. He succeeded in completing the required course for the degree of B.A., having transferred his studies to the University of British Columbia, where he attended lectures for four years and was deservedly awarded his degree in 1921.

Howe Sound is practically a "club" of the members of the official board are composed of Presbyterians, Anglicans, Baptists and Methodists. During the summer months Mr. Wright's congregation is considerably augmented from the city churches, whose members camp in large numbers at Hopkins, Grantham's and Gibson's Landing. Mr. Wright is the only resident minister all the year round. He is also a member of a number of fraternal organizations, being grand chaplain for the second division of the I.O.O.F. for British Columbia, and a member of the A.F. & A.M. of the city of Vancouver.

Chemists Organizes New Recreation Club

CHIEFMAN'S, Nov. 6.—A meeting was held in the room of the Recreation Club on Monday evening to reorganize the club. In spite of the inclement weather, there was a fairly good attendance, fifty-one persons being present. Mr. H. Dobson was in the chair. The financial statement submitted by Mr. H. E. Heppel, retiring secretary, was read, having been adapted, Messrs. H. Jarrell and A. E. P. Stubbs were appointed chairman and secretary of the meeting.

Mr. John Humbird, manager for the Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Company, said he wished it to be distinctly understood that the club was not to be a company affair, as it has been formerly. After a lengthy discussion it was resolved to elect seven members to form the executive of the club, three to appoint the club's officers from amongst themselves and to draw up a new constitution and present the same by December 1. The directors elected were: Messrs. John Humbird, Evans, Adam, F. A. Halhed, W. Cathcart, A. McCarty and F. Work.

A communication from the Badminton Club was read asking for the use of the hall three evenings a week, but as those specified clashed somewhat with basketball practice nights, the matter was held over until representatives of those bodies could meet the new executive. Owing to the lateness of the hour, the directors decided not to proceed with the appointment of officers until Friday evening next.

SEATTLE, Nov. 7.—Thrown into a nose dive when he banked his airplane today, Wesley Gray, an aviator, fell onto the tide flats in this harbor and was taken to a hospital unconscious. His machine was a mass of twisted wreckage.

Austrian Government Resigns
VIENNA, Nov. 8.—The Government headed by Ignace Seipel, as chancellor, resigned early this morning. The resignation followed a general railroad strike which began at midnight in consequence of the failure of negotiations between the men's organizations and the Federal railroad management.

HAMILTON, Nov. 7.—The final report of auditors examining the city's books, following the discovery of defalcations in the tax and treasurer's offices, presented to the board of control today, fixes the responsibility for the losses in these departments upon City Auditor Dempster and City Treasurer Davis.

The Screen
Capitol—Hobart Love and Hobart Bosworth in "Sundown."
Coliseum—Baby Peggy in "Family Secrets."
Columbia—Betty Balfour in "Mord Em'ly."
Dominion—"The Border Legion," starring Antonio Moreno.
The Stage
Playhouse—"Archibald, Certainly Not."

COLUMBIA The success "Mord Em'ly" met with in England was absolutely phenomenal. It is now required over there as one of the greatest pieces of entertainment ever played on the screen. "Mord Em'ly" is showing at the Columbia for the last time today, the Victoria public will have an opportunity of seeing this latest and greatest of English successes.

DOMINION Pretty Helene Chadwick, with a featured role, is the only woman in the cast of the new Zane Grey-Paramount production, "The Border Legion," which is the feature attraction at the Dominion. Helene Chadwick and the wife of the picture's chief cameraman were the only female members of the producing staff, which traveled miles into the mountains of the Northwest that "The Border Legion" might be filmed on the actual locations described by the author, his story. And Zane Grey personally supervised the selection of these locations, so everything about the picture is authentic, even the story, according to Grey, is a true one.

CAPITOL Hobart Bosworth's real theatre life has been almost as diversified as that of his screen roles. School and he parted when he was eleven years old and before he finally became an actor, he was, in turn, sailor, prizefighter, wrestler, cowboy, longshoreman, truck driver, scenario writer, director and actor. His leading role in "Sundown," now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

PLAYHOUSE Huntly Gordon is setting a record for picture work. He came to Hollywood from the New York stage a little more than a year ago, and in Rupert Hughes' production, "True As Steel," now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, plays his twelfth leading part.

COLISEUM Frank Currier, admiral of stage and screen experience, has the role of "grandfather" to Baby Peggy in her starring vehicle, "The Universal Jewel," all star production. This picture is an adaptation of "Edith's Burglar," a story by Frances Hodgson Burnett, once dramatized by Augustus Thomas.

ALD. SARGENT TO RUN FOR MAYOR

would consent to become a candidate. In reply, Alderman Sargent thanked the delegation for the kind things said of him. During recent weeks he had received similar solicitation and offers of support from many citizens, but he had been reluctant to comply with their request that he enter the mayoralty contest because of his dislike of elections. But he felt compelled now to yield to the forceful arguments presented.

Experience Valuable
The experience he had gained through his years of service as alderman would be of great value to anyone charged with the responsible duties that fall to the lot of the mayor of Victoria, Alderman Sargent said. "While he would do his utmost to win the election, the fight was not his alone, Alderman Sargent declared. He was placing himself in their hands, confident that united efforts would result in success on the day of election. He expressed the hope that the campaign would be clean and free from personalities.

Alderman Sargent believes that reverted lands constitute one of the gravest barriers to progress in the city. If elected mayor, he probably will bend every effort to solve this problem, which, he says, is one of the big contributing factors in high taxation. He is opposed to the sale of reverted lands by the city at the present time, and has pushed until real estate values rise. Selling them now glut the market, depressing prices further and postponing the time when the true value of the land could be realized, and the land itself could be come a tabular asset to the city once more.

For Economy
He is of the opinion that the civic expenditures require careful watching, that no extravagances should be permitted. Claiming that Victorians should not be compelled to leave the city because of the absence of work here, he maintains that a strong campaign should be inaugurated to attract industries to the city.

Mr. W. E. Staneland, former police commissioner, is being urged by friends to run again for that office. Mr. Staneland stated yesterday that he would not consider the request unless Dr. Ernest Hall was retiring. If Dr. Hall should run again, Mr. Staneland would support his candidature. Commissioner Aitken defeated Mr. Staneland at the last election.

SACRED RECITAL IS PLEASING INCIDENT

Forms Part of Reformed Episcopal Church Jubilee Celebrations

In connection with its jubilee celebrations, a sacred recital was held last evening in the Reformed Episcopal Church, an augmented choir and several soloists assisting in the programme. The solo organist, Major Watts, also conducted the choir, which was well under the control of his baton and responded well to his leadership. The choral numbers were of high quality, and the double quartette was very effective.

Mrs. Mary McCoy Jameon has not only a very powerful voice, but great sincerity and devotional enthusiasm in the singing of sacred music, and gave impressive renderings of "Hosanna, Praise Be Thine," and "With Verdure Glad." The treatment of the latter showed familiarity with the traditions of the work, and the difficult phrasing and intervals were faultlessly performed.

Mr. Maurice Thomas, possessor of a very pleasing tenor of considerable volume, sang another beautiful air by Gaul, "My Soul is Afloat for God." Miss Louise Moore admirably performed the duties of accompanist for the soloists, as well as playing for the choral numbers.

Major Watts, one of the most recent additions to the group of solo organists of the city, demonstrated something of his powers in the Lefebvre-Wely "Offertoire in G," the Scotsman Clark "Angels' Chorus" (which revealed a charming lightness of treatment in the running accompaniment), and P. A. Dick's "Postlude in D," in which the full organ was used with good effect.
